Landscapers have been developed for both commercial and domestic use. They are generally taller varieties. They were bred to be tough, disease tolerant plants with large flower size, bright flower colours and strong stems.

All Anigozanthos need well drained soil. They can be planted in full sun or light shade. Their water requirements are low once established, some summer watering will encourage new growth and continual flowering. For best results with all Kangaroo paws avoid leaving foliage wet overnight. Feed with a slow release fertilizer in Autumn and Spring. Protect from heavy frost.
